Undeliverable Emails

LINK: Sentinel Life Weekly Announcements

As you likely know by now, we typically send out our Sentinel Life weekly announcements by email on Fridays at 3:00 PM for the following week. We use Constant Contact to do so. Over the past week, Constant Contact has been running into difficulties delivering emails to those who have email addresses set up on Microsoft Outlook. In other words, our emails did not get delivered to them. We estimate that at least a third of our parents have email addresses that use the Microsoft Outlook system. Constant Contact says that it is aware of this technical issue and is working to address it. If you know anyone who has not received Sentinel Life from us, please remind them that these parent announcements are always available on our website at the link above. Thank you!
